Interior

Roof modules have a prefinished tongue'n'groove ceiling and give a light and airy feel to the boat's interior. The modules are insulated and come prefitted with downlights.

To give your boat the individuality we think you'd like, we have been working hard with designers from William Morris & Co to offer a full range of finishes to suit your needs and taste in decoration. All designs are from the 19th century and offer a real feeling of quality and place in time.
